introduction

As matter experts in smart workplaces, we have seen that integrating smart technologies is imperative to creating a future ready workspace that enhances the employee experience.

Many companies have adopted a hybrid working model and are approaching workplace design with a flexible and more eco-conscious view point.

It is imperative to create a workplace that is multi-use and multi-functional to adapt to ever changing workplace needs, and to ensure businesses are getting a return on investment from workplace facilities that may not be used as frequently.

Smart workplace technology is revolutionising the way companies manage their corporate real-estate and allow businesses to make data driven decision. Our award-winning smart storage solution plays a fundamental role in shaping a smarter working environment, one that supports hybrid working, improves workplace well-being and promotes sustainability.

where smart and flexible combine transforming the workplace through hybrid working

Hybrid working involves the conscious break down of traditional limitations in the workplace. Dedicated desks and rigid office designs are replaced with innovative and adaptable approaches to workspaces and working practises. Agile working calls for more freedom around how, when and where we work. This modern working style incorporates collaboration with smart technology.

% of companies are predicted to transition to an hybrid way of working by 2021, as a result of COVID-19,* according to Growth Business Magazine

a sustainable, smart solution

Your Workspace are dedicated to minimising the impact our business and products have on the environment. We design and manufacturer our Simplicity smart lockers with the planet in mind so that we can offer our clients an eco-conscious smart solution for their storage and locker facilities.

less is best

Simplicity has been designed with material efficiency in mind, therefore our lockers operate on a lower locker to user ratio. This ensure less lockers are needed per company, in turn, means less raw materials are being used which reduces the carbon footprint of the product.

analyse

See how often your lockers are being used and to what capacity. Our software can integrate with new or existing building management systems. Data can be analysed in real time to see how a space is being utilised and 'closed off' if necessary, when not needed to reduce energy consumption.

energy

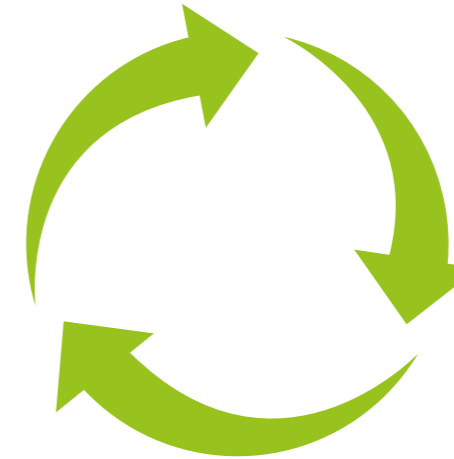

Our lockers are operated via mains power, no need to continually replace batteries which we know are bad for the environment.

reconfigure

Simplicity is a modular and flexible system that can be re-configured. This extends the shelf-life of your product and allows you to adapt your space to cater to your changing business needs.

Your Workspace products are designed to be re-distributed and re-used throughout the business or where the need lies, or via third party Waste to Wonder to charities around the world.

Simplicity smart lockers are designed for disassembly, aimed intentionally at material recovery. At the end of the products life, the majority of the materials can be recycled.

Here at Your Workspace, all of our products are multi-use, modular and dynamic. Our products are flexible to meet the needs of many, therefore reducing the amount of products needed and in turn materials used.

pick-up lockers

Parcels, letters, laptops, or mobile phones; our collection lockers will provide you with a safe, reliable, and trackable smart solution that will automate your internal mail and company asset management system.

How our Pick-up lockers work:

Pick-Up lockers use the MYPUP software.

When an item is delivered it will be placed in an automated locker at the pick-up point.

The software can also send delivery reminders, to make sure the item is collected.

Once the locker has been closed, the recipient of the item will then receive a message either by SMS or email to say their item is ready to be collected, along with a unique code to provide access.

simply green

Your Workspace are dedicated to minimising the impact our business has on the planet and are passionate about making a real difference in the fight to combat climate change.

Our current range of products are already manufactured using sustainably sourced and environmentally friendly materials. Simplicity also operates at a lower locker to user ratio, which means less materials are needed during the manufacturing process. Always striving to do better, Your Workspace wanted to go one step further.

We are now offering our clients the option to use an even more eco-conscious alternative to our sustainably sourced MFC, materials that have an even lower impact on the planet. This new range includes materials such as recycled fibreglass, eco-boards made from straw and hay, and virgin timber that uses potato starch as an alternative to traditional adhesives.
